Christmas Party for Family and Friends

On Monday, 18Dec our squadron will host a Christmas party during our regularly scheduled meeting between 1900-2100. We are extending the invitation to family and friends. The staff and cadet staff have put together a schedule that gives a look into what the Civil Air Patrol is, what we do, how our squadron is organized and what we do at our meetings. We want to introduce the parents to what their cadet does and the achievements that they have accomplished individually as well as what they collectively achieve to make our squadron one of the most well respected squadrons in the state! We also encourage the cadets to bring friends in hopes that they will see what it is we do and become motivated to make a difference in the community with us. The party will also include a gift program where cadets can win CAP related prizes. These gifts can be anything from gear related items to a years free membership! PLEASE RSVP no later than 15Dec with the amount of people that will be attending so that we can provide enough refreshments. You can RSVP by getting in contact with me via email at ron.holden@njwg.cap.gov or 908/303-1310.

Senior Member Bio's

Over the course of the newsletters we will feature seniors and cadets in biographies, reasons for joining CAP and things they enjoy about CAP. This month we are featuring our newest senior member, Friedo Meyer.

Born and raised in Germany on his parent's farm. It has been in his family for over 500 years. That is not a joke and there is a history book about the farm and the village. The name of the farm actually changed just once in that 500-year period. At age 15 he started his first full time job and continued his education in business at different schools. He spend two years in the German army before studying in the US and completing a BSBA in International Business. After completion of his management training at JC Penney he got a job as a Treasurer and Controller with a German import and export company that produces car parts. After eight years he decided to focus more on Real Estate investing and started to work for a local Real Estate Broker as a Regional Accountant and Realtor. In his spare time he enjoys anything that goes fast sometimes a bit too much. He has fun with motocross, scuba diving and surfing as well as traveling. Besides having fun in his opinion it is important to spend time volunteering. In his case he decided to join CAP because of his interest in Aerospace and to volunteer within the community. He enjoys the participation in CAP to help out the senior members and the cadets in their activities. It is rewarding and calls for the help of more seniors so please join in if you like.
